

World History 2
First Semester
COURSE DESCRIPTION

Room 234

Purpose of Course:

This course fulfills District and State requirements for World History and meets the UC/CSU admission requirement. This is the first semester of a two-semester course in which European history, geography and culture are studied in coordination with European literature. The theme of personal responsibility to self and community is emphasized. A strong humanities approach is used to integrate history with literature and the arts. Critical thinking, oral and written communication, cooperative learning, and effective behaviors are all emphasized to enable students to develop and demonstrate both individual and group responsibility and abilities.
